

The Female Forum launches Digital Assets Chapter to strengthen cross-industry collaboration across the digital assets ecosystem
A new initiative bringing together leaders across custody, legal and technology, with further expansion underway

London, 23 April 2026

Today, The Female Forum announced the launch of the Digital Assets Chapter, a new industry collaboration designed to bring together senior leaders across the digital assets ecosystem to drive stronger alignment, insight sharing, and strategic connection.

The launch comes at a pivotal moment for the industry. As institutional adoption accelerates, the digital assets ecosystem is evolving at pace across infrastructure, regulation, and market participation. With this rapid development comes a clear opportunity to connect expertise, align perspectives, and actively shape the future of digital assets and crypto adoption.

The initiative takes the form of a quarterly, invitation-only roundtable series, convening a carefully curated group of leading women from across custody, legal, technology, and investment. Designed as a peer-level, discussion-led forum, the Chapter enables deeper exchange, more candid perspectives, and long-term relationship building across disciplines.

The Chapter launches with three founding firms, each representing a key pillar of the ecosystem:

- Fidelity Digital Assets® as institutional grade custody provider
- CMS as Legal Insights Partner
- TRM Labs as Technology Partner

A fourth partner representing the investment pillar is expected to join the collaboration, further strengthening the Chapter's cross-industry perspective.

Together, the partners bring complementary expertise and a shared ambition to support the responsible growth and innovation of the digital assets industry.

Nora Stolz, Founder of The Female Forum, said:

"We launched the Digital Assets Chapter to create a space where insight sharing and

